

Have you seen ...this yellow fish?

Drains are for rainwater only.

Falmouth Green Corridor Forum volunteers are trying to protect the Bickland Stream, by marking drains in the area with the yellow fish logo, to remind people to think about what they put down the drains - oils, paints and chemicals poured down surface water drains will enter the river and sea, polluting the water and harming wildlife.

The stream runs through Tregonigge Woodland, Prislow Woods, the Swanvale and Swanpool nature reserves, then into the sea. It is vital to protect all species and habitats along Falmouth's environmentally important green corridor.

Keep our stream clean - only rain down the drain.

If you see a pollution incident, please call the 24 Hour Environment Agency Pollution Hotline: 0800 80 70 60
